"I am going to study a little more of the science of war." Capt. McMaster will attend the funeral of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson today in Rome, Ga., as a close personal friend of the family.—State.

Stevenson's Platform

1. Equality for the voters of the Fifth District who are loyal citizens. They are now being discriminated against in the following particulars:

(a) Congress is wasting on the average $40,000,000 of dollars a year in River and Harbor projects which are practically useless to the Fifth District, and has utterly failed to comply with the Constitution to build and maintain its postroads. If it would spend $60,000,000 a year on public roads which it uses for carrying mail it would mean $1,000,000 a year for South Carolina roads and $14,857 in the Fifth District each year or $20,400 in each county of the District. This Congress with Mr. Finley's help has just passed a River and Harbor bill providing for spending $90,000,000. This would make $1,500,000 for South Carolina or $30,000 for each county in this District. Now the people are taxed that amount for Rivers and Harbors and get no benefit. Suppose our Congress spent on the roads of the Fifth District, especially the Rockton road, the value of their lands would be doubled.

(b) They are discriminated against in what is known as the Reclamation Service. $106,000,000 has been spent in building dams to irrigate the State of the West. Why not give the South some of it for public roads?

(c) The farmers of the Fifth District, as well as other citizens, were discriminated against by the act giving free toll to the ship owners flying the U. S. flag and engaged in the coastwise trade when passing through the Canal and placing the burden of maintaining the canal on the people instead of those who use it. This amounts to millions of dollars and was merely a gift to people who are already rich. Morgan & Co., of New York, are dominant in this trade we are informed and the bonds of the shipping companies are held in Europe. There is no voter of the Fifth District who owns either stocks or bonds in such ships. Why tax them to give money to the millionaires of New York and New England and Europe? Yet Mr. Finley voted to do that thing. Woodrow Wilson said it was "wrong from any point of view." Mr. Finley followed Champ Clark against the request of Woodrow Wilson and voted to tax you to keep up the rich, yet when the Fifth District voters want to ship his cotton or cotton goods or to import his nitrate of soda or Peruvian guano, this moves in ships engaged in foreign commerce, and they had to pay toll while the manufacturers of New England, New York and Pennsylvania ship their wares in large quantities coastwise to California, Oregon and Washington and hence get the benefit of free toll if the shipper gets any and the Fifth District is discriminated against again and by the vote of Mr. Finley, its Congressman. Mr. Stevenson is opposed to this and stands with President Wilson on this issue.

Finally, He opposes giving away the great water powers. As late as February 24, 1911, with Mr. Finley in Congress, they gave away to a power corporation (Ozark Power Company) a water right that the Missouri Waterway Commission says will give a net income of $350,000 a year on the investment of $2,000,000. Thus the people are robbed for the rich and there are hundreds of other like projects. Do we ever hear of the congressman of the Fifth District objecting?

Try a new man. Stevenson is the candidate.

Mr. Thornwell Will Stay.

We learn that Supt. J. H. Thornwell of Mt. Zion received a very flattering offer from another high school this week, but has declined to even consider it, as he expects to stay in Winnsboro and continue his work at Mt. Zion another session. Old Mt. Zion has flourished under Mr. Thornwell, and is greatly to be congratulated upon the fact that she will still retain his services.

Social.

The Chicken Feasters had another very delightful meet on the Mt. Zion campus on Tuesday night. At nine o'clock a half dozen merry couples met at the appointed place, and each couple carried a box of fried chicken and other "accessories," which were soon spread daintily on a table spread on the grass, and became the object of the meeting, on which every one feasted completely, making it a most agreeable party.

Miss Agnes Curlee gave a pretty luncheon on Tuesday morning for Miss Kitty Mayes and her Winthrop friends. Miss Curlee received her guests in the attractive parlor, and the palms added to the attractive effect. There were fifteen or more merry couples who enjoyed the social hospitality. An amusement contest furnished a deal of fun, and not to mention the "concoctions" which were indulged in. A cheon was served at midday. An affair that is always looked forward to with the greatest sure by all the "Sets" in town is the annual moonlight picnic and watermelon feast. Mr. E. Gladden gets up at about five miles from the place about five miles from the place. Last Monday night over a dozen young people went in wagons and buggies to a charming place, which was invitingly and attractively arranged, with the long pine trees and Japanese lanterns hanging from the trees, and several enormous bonfires. The tables were spread on the grass, and enjoyed to the fullest extent, then came the most fun of the cutting, eating and drinking with watermelons. The moon peeped up in good time to the merry crowds home.

War Not an Excuse for Advancing Meat Prices.

Chicago, August 12.—Vigorous denial that packers have made the European war an excuse to put up meat prices was made today by J. Ogden Armour president of Armour & Co. Armour gave a statement saying the reason for the advances was that receipts at the stock yards here for the last two weeks have been approaching a famine basis. In that time, the statement explained, Armour & Co., have killed fewer hogs than during any similar period in the history of the concern.

"Circumstances of last week, utterly beyond the control of anybody, directly affected live stock and meat prices," Mr. Armour added. "The financial situation everywhere now a thing of the past, made it impossible for buyers and shippers to send stock to the market."

"Then Washington sent out, and properly so, official advice to farmers to hold their crops. These circumstances, added to live stock shortage, caused fluctuations which nobody could control. Conditions are fast becoming normal and prices soon will be on a more even basis."

"Only the other day we could fill but one third of an order from one of the nations because the new material was not obtained."

"If we all keep cool, hysterics, we will put this unusual situation to satisfaction of everybody."

All Things Settled in Mexico.

Teoloyucan, Mexico, Aug. 13.—Plans have been perfected for the unconditional surrender of Mexico City to the constitutionalists and peaceable occupation of the capital by troops under Gen. Obregon. Eduardo Iturbide governor of the federal district, to whom President Carral has turned over executive authority, will formally surrender the city to Obregon.

Such an agreement, it was announced here today, reached yesterday at a conference between Gen. Carranza, first chief of the constitutionalists, and the Brazilian minister to Mexico, has been concurred in by Gov. Iturbide.

According to the arrangements the federal army will surrender to Gen. Obregon without conditions and will be retired or otherwise disposed of as quickly as possible.
